VOTING RECORDS

In the May 27, August 26, September 29, and December 30, 1963, issues of this Report, we tabulated and discussed 34 roll call votes in the United States Senate during 1963, 30 in the House of Representatives. In the present issue, we tabulate and briefly discuss 7 key votes in the Senate. This makes a total of 71 key votes by the First Session of the 88th Congress during 1963 which have been tabulated in this Report—41 votes in the Senate, 30 in the House.

The percentages in the listings which follow are the conservative ratings which legislators earned by the stands they took—100% being a perfect conservative rating.

19 Best Senators

The conservative ratings of U. S. Senators were lower in 1963 than in 1962—the worst Senate, from a conservative viewpoint, in a generation. No United States Senator made a 100% conservative rating during 1963, on the 41 votes tabulated in this Report. Only 19 of the 100 Senators made conservative ratings of 60% or better:

Thurmond (Dem., S. C.)	—95%	Dominick (Rep., Colo.)	—70%
Goldwater (Rep., Ariz.)	—94%	Lausche (Dem., Ohio)	—64%
Tower (Rep., Tex.)	—90%	Stennis (Dem., Miss.)	—64%
Curtis (Rep., Neb.)	—88%	Cotton (Rep., N. H.)	—63%
Simpson (Rep., Wyo.)	—84%	Eastland (Dem., Miss.)	—63%
Mechem (Rep., N. M.)	—81%	Mundt (Rep., S. D.)	—61%
Hruska (Rep., Neb.)	—80%	Russell (Dem., Ga.)	—61%
Byrd (Dem., Va.)	—79%	Allott (Rep., Colo.)	—60%
Robertson (Dem., Va.)	—77%	Jordan (Rep., Ida.)	—60%
Bennett (Rep., Utah)	—72%

Twelve of the best Senators are Republicans; 7 are Democrats. Three of the 19 are serving their first terms in the Senate: Dominick, Mechem, and Simpson—all Republicans.

Four of the 15 worst Democrats are serving their first terms in the Senate: McGovern, Kennedy, Nelson, Ribicoff.

House

Whereas the Senate is becoming little more than a rubber stamp for the administration, the House (thanks to continuous efforts of conservatives) has begun to discharge its constitutional responsibility. In 1963, the House successfully resisted a considerable portion of the extravagant, unconstitutional legislation proposed by the President. In 1962, only 83 U. S. Representatives earned conservative ratings of 60% or better. In 1963, 157 Representatives earned conservative ratings of 60% or better. From a conservative viewpoint, the House, in 1963, was the best in a generation.

On the 30 roll calls tabulated in this Report for 1963, fifty-five Representatives earned conservative ratings of 80% or better:

100% — Andrews (Rep., N. D.), Beermann (Rep., Neb.), Johansen (Rep., Mich.)

97% — Ashbrook (Rep., Ohio), Pool (Dem., Tex.)

96% — Kilburn (Rep., N. Y.)

93% — Abele (Rep., Ohio), Alger (Rep., Tex.), Bruce (Rep., Ind.), Foreman (Rep., Tex.), Hall (Rep., Mo.), Hoffman (Rep., Ill.), Martin (Rep., Neb.), Utt (Rep., Calif.)

92% — Minshall (Rep., Ohio)

90% — Clancy (Rep., Ohio), Cunningham (Rep., Neb.), Haley (Dem., Fla.), Quillen (Rep., Tenn.), Snyder (Rep., Ky.)

89% — McLosky (Rep., Ill.), Winstead (Dem., Miss.)

88% — Van Pelt (Rep., Wisc.)

87% — Belcher (Rep., Okla.), Dole (Rep., Kans.), Gross (Rep., Ia.), Schadeberg (Rep., Wisc.)

86% — Devine (Rep., Ohio), Gurney (Rep., Fla.), Hutchinson (Rep., Mich.), Pillion (Rep., N. Y.)

85% — Cederberg (Rep., Mich.), Collier (Rep., Ill.), Williams (Dem., Miss.)

84% — Michel (Rep., Ill.)

83% — Hoeven (Rep., Ia.), Jensen (Rep., Ia.), King (Rep., N. Y.), Martin (Rep., Calif.), Short (Rep., N. D.)

82% — Colmer (Dem., Miss.), Waggonner (Dem., La.)

81% — Dague (Rep., Pa.), Miller (Rep., N. Y.), Westland (Rep., Wash.), Whitten (Dem., Miss.), Wyman (Rep., N. H.)

80% — Abernethy (Dem., Miss.), Baring (Dem., Nev.), Findley (Rep., Ill.), Knox (Rep., Mich.) Lipscomb (Rep., Calif.), Reid (Rep., Ill.), Rumsfeld (Rep., Ill.), Smith (Rep., Calif.)

Nine of the top 55 Representatives are Democrats; 46 are Republicans. It is especially noteworthy, and encouraging, that 13 of the best 55 conservatives in the House are serving their first terms: Abele, Andrews, Foreman, Gurney, Hutchinson, Martin, McLosky, Pool, Quillen, Reid, Rumsfeld, Synder, Wyman.

Worst In The House

The Republican with the lowest conservative rating in the House is Lindsay of New York—31%. Seventeen House Democrats earned conservative rating of 0% during 1963: Blatnick (Minn.), Bolling (Mo.), Corman (Calif.), Dingell (Mich.), Fraser (Minn.), Gill (Haw.), Hanna (Calif.), Macdonald (Mass.), McDowell (Dela.), O'Brien (Ill.), Rooney (Pa.), Ryan (N. Y.), Shelley (Calif.), Sisk (Calif.), Staebler (Mich.), Thompson (N. J.), Thornberry (Tex.).

In 1962, 104 Democrats in the House earned conservative ratings of 0%.

Two of the worst 17 Representatives of 1963 will not return to Congress in 1964. John F. Shelley was elected Mayor of San Francisco. Homer Thornberry has resigned to become a federal judge in Texas (appointment made by President Kennedy, approved by President Johnson). Five of the 17 worst Representatives are serving their first terms: Fraser, Gill, Hanna, Rooney, Staebler.

Seven Senate Votes

In this issue, we record the stand of United States Senators on 7 key votes taken during November and December, 1963:

(1) —NATIONAL DEBT: On November 21, 1963, the Senate (by a stand of 64 to 35) authorized another (the third in 1963) "temporary" increase in the national debt (to 315 billion dollars). The vote is tabulated below in Column 35, under Senate. C is a conservative stand against.

(2) —LIBRARY AID: On November 26, 1963, the Senate (by a stand of 90 to 8) passed S 2265, revising the Library Services Act (originally enacted in 1956), providing federal aid to public libraries. The Senate Bill authorizes $25,000,000 a year in federal aid to public libraries, and provides $20,000,000 to states for construction of public libraries. The vote is recorded in Column 36 under Senate. C is a conservative stand against.

(3) —U. S. CREDIT TO THE U.S.S.R.: On November 26, 1963, the Senate (by a stand of 61 to 38) rejected the Mundt Bill (S 2310, introduced by Senator Karl Mundt, Republican from South Dakota). The Mundt Bill would have prohibited the Export-Import Bank from extending credit to the Soviet Union for the purchase of wheat in the United States. The vote is recorded below in Column 37, under Senate. C is a conservative vote for the Mundt Bill.

(4) —NITZE NOMINATION: On November 27, 1963, the Senate, by an unrecorded voice vote, approved the nomination of Paul H. Nitze as Secretary of the Navy. Five conservative Senators went on record as opposing the nomination: Strom Thurmond (Democrat, South Carolina), Milward Simpson (Republican, Wyoming), John G. Tower (Republican, Texas), Harry Flood Byrd (Democrat, Virginia), and Barry Goldwater (Republican, Arizona). These Senators were opposed because of Nitze's stated views on disarmament, recognition of red China, and surrender of American armaments and Armed Forces to the control of international organizations. All 95 Senators who did not take the opportunity to register opposition are shown as taking a liberal stand in favor of the Nitze nomination—in Column 38 under Senate, below.

(5) —COLLEGE AID: On December 10, 1963, the Senate (by a stand of 66 to 34) authorized a five-year, 1.2 billion-dollar program of federal grants and loans to colleges and universities. The vote is recorded below in Column 39, under Senate. C is a conservative vote against.

(6) —EL CHAMIZAL: On December 17, 1963, the Senate ratified a treaty giving Mexico 437.18 acres of land taken from El Paso, Texas (El Chamizal District). The 1845 Treaty of Annexation between the Republic of Texas and the United States does not authorize the United States Government to cede any portion of the State of Texas to a foreign nation. Hence, this cession of Texas land could not possibly be legal unless formally approved by the Government of the State of Texas. Senator John G. Tower of Texas proposed that the El Chamizal treaty be submitted to the Legislature of the State of Texas, for separate ratification or rejection. The Senate (by a stand of 79 to 15) defeated the Tower proposal. Vote on the Tower proposal is recorded below in Column 40 under Senate. C is a conservative stand for submitting the treaty to the Texas legislature.

(7) — INTER-AMERICAN BANK FUNDS: On December 18, 1963, the Senate (by a stand of 70 to 26) rejected an amendment (proposed by Senator Wayne Morse, Democrat from Oregon) to the Foreign Aid Appropriations Bill. The Morse Amendment would have prohibited the appropriation of $50,000,000 to the Inter-American Bank for use in its "special operations" activities. Senator Morse pointed out that the appropriation was illegal because it had not been duly authorized by a previous act of Congress. Several Senators who voted against the Morse Amendment admitted that the appropriation was not being made with proper authority, but justified it on the grounds that the Senate would eventually authorize it anyway — and the Secretary of the Treasury was eager to get the 50 million dollars appropriated prior to a trip to Venezuela, which the Secretary was planning for early January, 1964. This vote is recorded in Column 41 under Senate. C is a conservative vote for the defeated Morse Amendment.

A Time To Hope

The primary purpose of our roll call tabulations is to show which legislators respect the limitations imposed on Congress by the Constitution. The Constitution does not authorize such programs as federal aid to education, urban renewal, manpower training, aid to libraries, foreign aid. Hence, we consider a 1-billion-dollar foreign aid Act as bad in principle as a 4-billion-dollar Act; a 1-billion-dollar urban renewal program as unconstitutional as a 10-billion-dollar program. By our standards, a legislator who votes to spend any tax money at all on programs not clearly authorized by the Constitution is voting liberal. The essence of liberalism in our time is that government must not be bound by constitutional provisions but should be permitted to do anything that officialdom claims to be good for the country.

Constitutional conservatives cling to the ideal enunciated by the Founding Fathers: the Constitution is a binding contract which limits the federal government to the exercise of specifically enumerated powers.

Under the federal system, which our Constitution established, it was possible for state governments to experiment with social and welfare legislation without endangering the whole nation. If a state went too far, or not far enough, in its taxing and spending, it would lose good and productive citizens and private organizations to other states. Experience and competition among the states would enable people to find some reasonable answer to the question of just how much governmental intervention in the private affairs of citizens is necessary.

But when we permit the federal government to do whatever officialdom claims to be necessary or good, we gradually transform that government into an uncontrollable colossus which usurps the powers and revenue of the states, under pretext of giving them aid; and which robs and enslaves the people, under pretext of taking care of them.

No matter how well-intentioned a federal program; no matter how honorable and patriotic the people who support and administer it; no matter how big a majority of the citizens themselves may want the program — when our federal government does something which it has no constitutional grant of power to do, our government is a dictatorship. It may for a while seem a good dictatorship, but every government permitted to become a dictatorship must ultimately resort to the same brutal tactics that the Soviets use to maintain what they regard as their own 'good' dictatorship of the proletariat.

If the people want the federal government to do something which the Constitution does not clearly authorize, or if changing times make any provision of the Constitution unsuitable for our day, the people should change their Constitution in strict compliance with the amendment process specified in the Constitution — and never permit it to be changed through usurpation of power or through reinterpretation of meaning, by a Congress, a President, or a Court.

In short, all officials of the federal government should be compelled to obey the Constitution, literally, without deviation. This could be done, if citizens would use the Constitution as their voting guide and as their yardstick for measuring all activities of the federal government.

The recourse of the people who want to restore lawful constitutional government is the Congress — particularly the House of Representatives. It is significant and encouraging that the House is the most conservative body, or agency, in the federal government — because the House is closest to the people. The growing conservatism in the House reflects the same condition in the public.

A relatively small group of real conservatives in the House of Representatives did a marvelous job during 1963 in resisting the programs of totalitarian liberalism — programs which were supported by a majority of the Senate and by all the power and prestige of the Presidency. They will do a better job in 1964, if voters will encourage and reinforce them.

WHO IS DAN SMOOT?

Born in Missouri, reared in Texas, Dan Smoot went to SMU in Dallas, getting BA and MA degrees in 1938 and 1940. In 1941, he joined the faculty at Harvard as a Teaching Fellow in English, doing graduate work for a doctorate in American Civilization.

In 1942, he left Harvard and joined the FBI. As an FBI Agent, he worked for three and a half years on communist investigations in the industrial Midwest; two years on FBI headquarters staff in Washington; and almost four years on general FBI cases in various parts of the nation.

In 1951, Smoot resigned from the FBI and helped start Facts Forum. On Facts Forum radio and television programs, Smoot spoke to a national audience, giving both sides of controversial issues.

In July, 1955, he resigned and started his present independent publishing and broadcasting business — a free-enterprise operation financed entirely by profits from sales: sales of The Dan Smoot Report, a weekly magazine; and sales of a weekly news-analysis broadcast, to business firms, for use on radio and television as an advertising vehicle. The Report and the broadcast give only one side in presenting documented truth about important issues — the side that uses the American Constitution as a yardstick. The Report is available by subscription; and the broadcasts are available for commercial sponsorship, anywhere in the United States.

If you think Dan Smoot is providing effective tools for Americans fighting socialism and communism, you can help immensely — by helping him get more customers for his Report and broadcasts.
